This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at `http://books.google.com/`

ARKANSAS

Ark. 1.—University of Arkansas Medical Department, Little Rock. Organized 1879, first class graduated in 1880, and a class graduated each subsequent year. Original title of Arkansas Industrial University changed to present title in 1899 by legislative enactment. In July, 1911, it merged with the College of Physicians and Surgeons, and the school became an integral part of the University of Arkansas. The dean is Dr. Morgan Smith. Total registration, 1916-17, 43; graduates, 15.

Ark. 2.—College of Physicians and Surgeons, Little Rock. This college was organized in 1906. Classes were graduated from 1907 to 1911, inclusive, when it was merged with the University of Arkansas Medical Department.

Ark. 3.—Bethel Medical Department, Southwestern University, Little Rock. Extinct about 1890.

Ark. 5.—Medical Department of Sulphur Rock College, Sulphur Rock. Organized 1898. No graduates. In 1902 removed to Texarkana and under new charter became the Gate City Medical College. (See Tex. 7.)

CALIFORNIA

Cal. 1.—Cooper Medical College, San Francisco. Organized 1858 as Medical Department of University of the Pacific. Discontinued 1864, revived 1870, became Medical Department University College of San Francisco 1873, title of Medical College of the Pacific. Above title assumed in 1882. First class graduated 1860, and a class graduated each subsequent year except 1865-1869. In 1908 it united with Leland Stanford Junior University. It retained the title of Cooper Medical College, however, until the class of 1912 was graduated. (See Cal. 11.)

Cal. 2.—University of California Medical School, Berkeley and San Francisco. Organized 1863 as Toland Medical College. First class graduated in 1865, and a class graduated each subsequent year. In 1872 became Medical Department, University of California. In 1909 the University of Southern California College of Medicine merged as the Los Angeles Medical Department. This Los Angeles portion was changed to a graduate school in 1914. In 1915 the Hahnemann Medical College of the Pacific was merged, and elective chairs in homeopathic materia medica and therapeutics were provided for. The work of the first year and a half is given at Berkeley and that of the last two and one-half years at San Francisco. Since 1914 the course has included a fifth year consisting of an internship, or of special work in a department of the medical school. The dean is Dr. Herbert C. Moffitt, San Francisco. Total registration for 1916-17, 129; graduates, 26.

Cal. 3.—California Medical Society and College of Physicians, San Francisco. Incorporated 1876. No graduates. Extinct 1877.

Cal. 4.—California Eclectic Medical College, Los Angeles. Organized 1879 at Oakland as the California Medical College. First class graduated 1880, and a class graduated each subsequent year except 1907. Removed to San Francisco in 1887. Suspended in 1906. Reorganized at Los Angeles in 1907 with above title. Extinct in 1915.

Cal. 5.—Hahnemann Medical College of the Pacific, San Francisco. Homeopathic. Organized 1881 as Hahnemann Medical College. First class graduated 1884, and a class graduated each subsequent year. Name changed in 1888 to Hahnemann Hospital College of San Francisco. In 1902 assumed present name. In 1915 it merged with the University of California Medical School.

Cal. 6.—University of Southern California College of Medicine, Los Angeles. Founded 1885. First class graduated in 1888, and a class graduated each subsequent year. Early in 1909 it merged with the University of California as the Los Angeles Medical Department.

Cal. 7.—College of Physicians and Surgeons of San Francisco. Organized 1896. First class graduated 1897, and a class graduated each subsequent year. Suspended active teaching in 1918, but will retain a nominal existence till 1921 to grant degrees to the three remaining classes which are being taught elsewhere.

Cal. 8.—Oakland College of Medicine and Surgery, Oakland. Organized 1900, opened in 1902; first class graduated in 1906. Suspended active teaching in 1918, but will retain a nominal existence till 1921 to grant degrees to the three remaining classes which are being taught elsewhere.

Cal. 9.—College of Physicians and Surgeons (Medical Department of the University of Southern California), Los Angeles. Organized 1903. First class graduated 1905. In 1909 it became the Medical Department of the University of Southern California. Students matriculating in the session of 1918-19 and thereafter will be required to take an additional year, either as an intern in an acceptable hospital or in other advanced clinical training. The dean is Dr. Charles W. Bryson, Citizens National Bank Bldg., Los Angeles. The registration 1916-17, 136; graduates, 49.

Cal. 10.—Pacific Coast Regular College of Medicine, San Francisco. Organized in 1900. Name changed same year to West Coast Medical College. Reported fraudulent. Extinct in 1907.

Cal. 11.—Leland Stanford Junior University School of Medicine, Palo Alto and San Francisco. Organized in 1908 when, by an agreement, the interests of Cooper Medical College were eventually to be taken over. The latter continued teaching until 1912. First class graduated in 1913. Beginning with the session of 1914-15, the course has included a fifth year devoted to practical or intern work. The dean is Dr. Wm. Ophüls, Sacramento and Webster Sts., San Francisco. Total registration in 1916-17, 100; graduates, 23.
